

Red Minister Favors Greek Plan Of Open Treaty Talks

Paris, Aug. 1 (P)—The Yugoslav delegation served notice at the peace conference today that it would not accept the compromise solution on Trieste.

Paris, Aug. 1 (P)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed today to a Greek proposal to open the Paris Peace conference to all "questions pertaining to the draft of peace treaties."

In supporting the Greek motion, Molotov proposed that the rules of procedure of the conference be amended to include the statement that:

"The conference may place on its agenda at the request of any delegation any question pertaining to the draft of peace treaties."

The motion was made by Constantin Aghnides, Greek ambassador to London, who said that the conference should be thrown open to any "connected" peace question not now on the agenda. Before Molotov spoke the motion was opposed by Misha Pijadi, Yugoslav official, and Dmitri Z. Manuilsky, member of the Ukrainian delegation, who said the proposal was a "disguised form" of bringing up the disputed question of a simple majority as against a two-thirds majority rule for voting in the conference.

Adopt Majority Vote
The Greek proposal asked that the decision of placing any new matter on the agenda be by a simple majority vote.

Manuilsky said article 18 of the United Nations charter required a two-thirds majority for voting. Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian Minister of External Affairs and champion of the simple majority proposal, said that Manuilsky's interpretation of the U. N. article was faulty.

"This is only a recommending body and I think it should consider everything and send it back to the final body—the four ministers," said Evatt.

The adoption of the two-thirds rule seemed assured, however, thus probably restricting the major decisions of the 21-nation body to those matters on which the Big Four have been unable to agree.

The debate on the question of opening the conference to various peace treaty questions occurred at a meeting of the rules committee. U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was expected to inform the committee that the United States gave qualified support to the two-thirds proposal.

Plenary Session
A plenary session of the conference will be held at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST), with delegates from the Netherlands, Yugoslavia, New Zealand, and Norway slated to speak in that order.

Byrnes' proposal, while calling for a two-thirds majority on all major matters, carries the proviso that any motion which receives a simple majority but fails to receive a two-thirds vote will be referred to the plenary session.

Probers Seek Responsibility For Defective Mortar Shells

Washington, August 1 (P)—The Senate War Investigating committee set out today on the back-trail of defective chemical mortar shells which killed American soldiers in the Battle of the Bulge.

Concluding the first phase of its open hearings on war contracts, the committee announced it will give "high priority" to a separate "major investigation" seeking to fix responsibility for failure of the shells and the resultant casualties.

Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt, chief of the army's Warfare Service, estimated in testimony last week that 10 to 12 soldiers were killed by premature shell-bursts, but said he didn't think it was possible to pin the blame on any one manufacturer. A later report revised the number of casualties upward to 29 killed and 83 injured.

Garsons Involved
Erie Basin Metal Products, Inc., one firm in the Garson combine of war manufacturers under investigation, held a bid contract for the 4.2 shells. Waitt noted that other companies made the same size shell. Announcing the investigation in a statement, the committee made public a questionnaire it will circulate chiefly among former military men having "first-hand knowledge of the facts."

The announcement came after the committee's activities had produced these other developments:

1. James P. McGraney, assistant to the attorney general, testified that the three-year statute of limitations barred any action in connection with the $2,500 payment from

TOWN CURFEW ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED

Burgess C. A. Heiges today instructed borough police to begin enforcement of the town's 1917 curfew law which provides that all youngsters under 18 years of age must be off the streets of town by 9 p. m. Since the ordinance calls for Standard time and the town is now on Daylight time, the Burgess told the officers to make the curfew limit 10 o'clock.

The Burgess instructed the officers to make the age limit 18 years for all youngsters. The ordinance, passed October 5, 1917, when C. B. Dougherty was president of the town council and J. W. Eicholtz, Burgess, provided that girls up to 18 and boys up to 16 were prohibited the free use of the streets and alleys of the borough between 9 p. m. and 4 a. m. each day.

For many years the ordinance was enforced with a bell tolling at 9 o'clock each evening to warn the youngsters that the time had come to cease playing and go home.

Fine for Parents

For a number of years the ordinance has not been enforced. It provides for a fine of $2.50 for parents who allow their youngsters to roam the streets during the curfew hours. It does not affect youngsters accompanied by their parents, or other adults, or if they have work certificates signed by their employers and the Burgess or if they are on an errand for their parents.

Burgess Heiges said that his decision to enforce the ordinance was brought about by the youngsters many of whom roam the streets late at night and during the early hours of the morning.

"The fact that the youngsters roam the streets late at night," he said, "is dangerous in that such conduct may lead to disastrous consequences." He urged local organizations to consider re-establishment of the teen canteen or similar activities in order to provide wholesome recreation for the community's youngsters.

Burgess Heiges explained that enforcement of the ordinance was dropped about 1927 when the local Boys band was organized. There were 20 youngsters in the band, all under the curfew age. In order to permit the youths to attend the programs and rehearsals several times a week the curfew was dropped.

SMITH HEADS LEGION GROUP

Herbert Smith, Red Lion, was elected commander of the 22nd District organization of the American Legion Wednesday evening at a meeting in Waynesboro.

Smith, who received the 12 votes cast by the Gettysburg post along with a majority of the other votes, was opposed for the office by William Walker, of York.

Other business at the session included the passage of a number of resolutions to be presented at the annual state Legion convention to be held in Philadelphia in August. Richard White, Philadelphia, a candidate for election as state commander spoke at the meeting.

Those attending from Gettysburg included: Commander Wilbur Geiselman, James Howe, Alexis Chreztman, Robert Myers, Samuel Weaver, Walter Wolff, John Heisey, Carroll Heisey, Edward Culp, Roy Alexander, John Raffensperger, C. Arthur Brame, Arthur Warman, Paul Rohrbach and Henry Lower.

A roast beef supper was served following the meeting.

The Iris Bridge club will meet this evening with Mrs. A. Z. Rogers, York street.

Love Finds A Way In Hurry; Cupid Sets Record Pace Here

Willard Malin McMurtrie and Margery Alice Thomas, both of Bellefonte R. 1, wasted no time when their marriage license was issued this morning by the county clerk of courts.

The couple obtained the license at 8 o'clock when the clerk's office opened and a few minutes later they were married by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. McMurtrie is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. McMurtrie and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thomas. All are of Bellefonte R. 1. The license was one of three issued this morning by the county clerk.

Others Issued

Others obtaining marriage permits were: Donald Bruce Shetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Shetter, Biglerville and Marian Elaine Fulmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Fulmer, Carlisle R. 6; James Howard Spalding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Spalding, Littlestown and Lieut. Waltemyer entered the service early in July after graduating from the Temple University Medical school. Previously he attended Gettysburg college. His wife is the former Miss Phyllis C. Wickey, of New York city.

NEW COVERAGE ON INSURANCE OF CROPS NOW

Members of Agricultural Adjustment Agency committees from seven counties and their secretaries gathered Tuesday at Sheffer's park near here to discuss the federal crop insurance program for 1947, 1948 and 1949.

Counties represented at the meeting included Adams, Franklin, Cumberland, York, Dauphin, Lancaster and Perry.

Speakers at the all-day meeting included William Poorbaugh, farmer field man for the seven-county district, who was in charge of the meeting; A. W. Manchester, Washington, D. C., regional director of the AAA; Ralph DeWolf, crop insurance representative for the northeastern district of the AAA; Lee Burns, assistant to DeWolf; Clyde Zehner, chairman of the state AAA and his assistant, Dr. A. R. Beshore.

To Sell Insurance.

Following the seven-county meeting the Adams county committee met with the local community committee at the office on North Washington street to secure agents to sell the federal crop insurance.

Those agreeing to sell the insurance included John W. Black, Gettysburg R. 3; Arthur J. G. Ebert, Biglerville R. 1; Roy C. Garber, New Oxford R. 1; Wilmer Sanders, Fairfield R. 1; Edwin A. Schlosser, Arendtsville; Howard S. Schwartz, Littlestown R. 1; Holman L. Sell, Littlestown; R. M. Spangler, Gettysburg R. 4; Roy A. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4; D. H. Neely, Fairfield; Clarence J. Peltz, Gettysburg R. 2; John B. Peters, Gardners; M. T. Walter, Biglerville, and chairman of the county committee, Harrison F. Snyder, Littlestown R. D. Speakers at both meetings pointed out that a new 75 per cent coverage for crops permits the buyer to take out the insurance on 60, 70, 80 or 90 per cent of his crops.

Prices On Potatoes

There are 175 policyholders for federal crop insurance in Adams county. Chairman Snyder told the group, of whom 15 so far have reported losses and received checks.

Chairman Snyder and others from Adams county attended a similar session held Wednesday in York where they were told by Mr. Zehner that so far $26,000,000 has been handed out in subsidies through the county committees in Pennsylvania and that thorough investigation of all checks "disclosed not one check that was in any way crooked."

They also were told that the support price for U. S. No. 1 potatoes graded and bagged and put on car was set at $2.10 a hundred. The bulk support price is $1.85 a hundred, Snyder said today. He also said that plans were announced to establish a purchasing agent for the potatoes in Adams county later this summer.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy and a little cooler tonight. Friday generally fair, warmer in the afternoon.

MEMORIAL FUND AT EAST BERLIN REACHES $5,000

The "Living Memorial Fund" to finance the building of a community hall in East Berlin to the memory of war heroes from the school district of that place has taken in $5,000 in cash and pledges, according to reports from solicitors given at a town meeting in the East Berlin high school building Tuesday evening. Representatives of the Lions club were present to state results of their campaign for the solicitation of East Berlin business people.

Newly announced contributors were as follows: George Zeigler, $25; Ralph Zeigler, $25; C. Elmer Lease, $25; J. Harry Sinner, $50; Robert M. Zeigler, $10; Mr. and Mrs. Mervin R. Lau, $25; anonymous, $25; John Groupe, $25; Roy H. Mummert, $25; Purley H. Grove, $15; E. Stanton DeBolt, $50; John Lehr, $100; George R. Glatfelter, $50; Raymond Freed, $25; and Archie D. Himes, $50. Some of these donors told solicitors that they may add to their contributions later.

It is requested that donors place in the windows of their homes or business places the official "Living Memorial" stickers as a means of further publicity for the fund.

"Thermometer" Is Ready

The large "thermometer" on which will be reported the progress toward the desire goal has been made by Norman Kroft, engineer of the school building, and will be placed on the outside wall of the George W. Moul market within the next week.

Solicitors were instructed to obtain each donor's permission before his name and amount may be published in local newspapers.

The Misses Beulah E. Wentz and Ruth A. Deatrick, teachers in the district, agreed to send out invitations to all mothers in the area who are requested to attend the next fund meeting.

It has been proposed that a board be formed to arrange for the use of the community hall by various organizations so that each group supporting the memorial may derive just benefit from the completed building. It was suggested that this board be composed of a member from each supporting organization in the community and outlying districts, this member to be elected by his own group, and that the board meet twice each month. No charge will be asked for the use of the memorial by groups who supported its erection, and it may be used by organizations, even though these have rooms now appointed for their functions.

'TEEN CANTEEN FUND IS GIVEN COUNTY LIBRARY

Money donated for the "Teen Canteen" activities in Biglerville and not used during the period the canteen was open will be utilized to purchase teen age books for the Adams County Free Library, Miss Kathryn Oiler, librarian, announced today.

A total of $40.35 was turned over to the library by officials of the Biglerville group.

The donations for 'teen age books was but one of a number of cash contributions made to the library during July.

Eleven school boards donated funds for the purchase of books for the elementary school age youngsters who in turn will utilize them to a large extent this coming school year when the bookmobile resumes its tours of county schools.

Some youngsters, who may visit the library, its branches and deposit stations may get the jump on the rest provided the books can be obtained before fall, but the greatest use will come during the winter months when schools are in session.

July Donors

Among the school boards which donated money last month to the library were: Abbottstown, Mt. Pleasant township, Conewago township, Oxford township, Highland township, Liberty township, Huntingdon township, Reading township, Berwick township, Tyrone township and Hamilton township.

In addition to the cash donations a number of persons donated magazines or books. They included: Dr. H. C. Alleman, Henry Barnes, O. H. Benson, Mrs. Cora E. Berkey, Frank N. Britcher, Mrs. Clifford Bucher, Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Mrs. Earl R. Deardorff, William A. Eckert, Ralph J. Congress Snarled As It Nears Close Of 79th Session Friday

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—Racing toward final adjournment by night-fall tomorrow, the historic 79th Congress—which wrote rules of war and charted a course to peace—stumbled today over a dispute involving rich and poor states.

The session-end deadlock is over social security legislation. And, unless Congress acts, it will result in an increase of old age insurance taxes from one per cent to 2.5 per cent on employees' pay and employers' payrolls next January 1.

House Democratic leaders resorted to extraordinary means to break the deadlock—only threat to adjournment plans—that developed as a group of GOP's launched a last ditch battle against a Senate provision of the social security bill that would give proportionately larger federal grants to low income states for needy aged, blind, and dependent children.

Both chambers have passed the security bill, freezing the security tax for another year at one per cent. The rise to two and one-half

REGISTRATION PERIOD TO END SEPTEMBER 14

The Adams County Registration Commission has completed arrangements for registration days to be held throughout the county between now and September 14, it was announced today.

Registrars will sit at 17 places throughout the county during the period in order that all who wish to register to vote may do so.

Former members of the armed forces who have been discharged from the service and who are not registered even though they voted a military ballot must register if they wish to vote in the November 5 election, the commission announced.

May Register Here

Registrations will be taken care of at the court house here any time between now and the close of registrations, September 14, during the regular office hours.

Two special days, September 13 and 14, the court house office will be open for registrations between 7 and 9 p. m., in addition to the regular office hours.

The registrars will sit between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m. in 16 places in the county as follows:

Fairfield, August 24; Cashtown, August 26; Bonneauville, August 27; New Oxford, August 28; York Springs, August 29; Idaville, August 30; McSherrystown, August 31; Abbottstown, September 3; Arendtsville, September 4; Two Taverns, September 5; Conewago township, September 6; Littlestown, September 7; Biglerville, September 9; East Berlin, September 10; Bendersville, September 11 and Hunterstown, September 12.

Change Voting Places

Members of the commission are the county commissioners, George P. Taylor, J. Arthur Boyd and Q. D. Rebert.

The commission also changed the voting places for three districts. The New Oxford voting place has been changed from the fire engine house to the Sons of Union Veterans home on South Peters street. In Tyrone township the voting place has been changed to the old Gardners post office. It formerly was in a school house. The Cumberland township voting place, which is a small building on Steinwehr avenue, which recently was annexed to Gettysburg, will be moved to a site on the county farm land along the Biglerville road near the end of Carlisle street, the commission announced.

RAINFALL FOR JULY REPORTED BELOW NORMAL

August started out today as if determined to make up for the deficiency in rainfall during July.

Last month had 1.06 inch less rain than normal. The total precipitation was 1.76 inch with the greatest rainfall, .90 inch falling on July 8.

The month was cooler than usual, too, with July having a mean temperature of 73.5 degrees, 7 under normal. The mean maximum was 84 and the mean minimum 63 with only three days showing a maximum of 90 degrees or above.

The hottest day was the 19th when the thermometer soared to 93. The 90 degree or above days were July 7, 19 and 20.

Cool Mornings

There were some very cool mornings, with the thermometer dropping into the 50's on several days in the middle and at the end of the month.

Most of the month was clear, with 19 days recorded by Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer as being clear, ten days were partly cloudy and two were classified as cloudy.

There were seven days on which 0.01 inch of rain or more fell and three days had rains totalling 0.25 inch or better.

DISCOVER BODY MISSING GIRL IN RESERVOIR

Onset, Mass., Aug. 1 (P)—Police Chief Chester A. Churchill reported that the body of pretty Ruth McGurk, 25-year-old vacationist from Cambridge, sought since she disappeared from a dance hall Saturday night, was found today in a reservoir ten miles from here.

A medical examiner was hurried to the scene—the Green Lodge reservoir in the Tremont section of the town of Wareham of which Onset is a village—to determine the cause of the girl's death.

A Wareham resident, John J. Lane, called the police to the reservoir by telephone after discovering the object, which he described as a woman's body.

Assistant District Attorney Robert G. Clark said he had received a report that the body was that of Miss McGurk.

Left Hall With Man

Two girl friends of the young woman had informed police all three had gone to a dance on Saturday night and that Miss McGurk—after dancing twice with a man whom she spoke of as "Frank"—had left the hall with him.

A search was made of large and small craft in Buzzards Bay and of the entire countryside and a chartered plane flew over uninhabited areas not accessible by highway.

Both Wareham Police Chief Chester A. Churchhill and Assistant District Attorney Clark expressed concern for the girl's safety when days passed and the man known as "Frank" did not come forward to identify himself.

Indian Bishop To Speak Here Friday

Bishop Shot K. Mondol, of India, the second Indian to be elected to the episcopacy of the Methodist church in India, will speak in the Methodist church Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The general public is invited.

Bishop Mondol has been a frequent visitor in America, and has spoken in various parts of America, Europe, in Burma, and in China. Four times he visited the United States as a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist church. He has served as president of the Bengal Christian Council (interdenominational), and has been a chaplain of the Railway English Church in Assam.

Vets Of Two Wars Meet At Indiana

Indiana, Pa., Aug. 1 (P)—This western Pennsylvania community will be the site of one of the largest gatherings in its history when gray-haired members of World War I 80th division vets unite with World War II "Blue Ridge" men to celebrate their national convention August 8 to 11.

Attorney General James H. Duff has accepted an invitation to speak at the banquet at the Indiana State Teacher's college Aug. 10.

The gathering is also planned as a huge welcome-home celebration for all veterans of this area.

BUS DRIVERS IN YORK ON STRIKE

York, Pa., Aug. 1 (P)—The 53 buses operated by the York Bus company remained in garages early today as 130 AFL drivers held a special meeting to consider an undisclosed management offer granting pay increases.

Roy Lightner, president of Local 888, Amalgamated Street, Electric and Motor Coach Employees (AFL), told a reporter during a lull in the union meeting "this is not a strike."

Lightner said the drivers were considering a management proposal made shortly after midnight by Gilbert E. Schwalback, general manager of the bus firm.

The union seeks a pay boost from 88 cents per hour to $1.25.

Buses are the only means of public transportation in York, a city of 56,000.

Lightner said at 7 a. m. (EDT) the drivers met at 1 a. m. today and have been in session continuously except for an hour's recess.

GI Farm Trainee Killed By Tractor

New Castle, Pa., Aug. 1 (P)—Michael A. Brian, 27, of New Castle, was killed today while working on a nearby farm.

Brian, a former serviceman taking agriculture training under the Veterans' Administration program, was driving a tractor and dusting machine to a field when the tractor overturned. The edge of the dusting hopper stuck him in the forehead, fracturing his skull. His widow and four-year-old son survive.

SENATE FACES WORLD COURT ISSUE WARILY

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—The Senate edged up warily today to the question of giving an international court full rights to settle a wide assortment of America's legal disputes with other nations.

Sensors agreed they were facing a unique step in the history of American jurisprudence and international relations.

Held over for a vote as they assembled at 11 a. m. (EST) was a motion by Senator Morse (R-Ore.) to discard anti-poll tax legislation in favor of his resolution granting compulsory jurisdiction to the United Nations Court of International Justice.

Morse wanted the anti-poll tax bill passed. But he conceded it had no chance. He considered prospects brighter for Senate approval of the world court resolution, even though that would take a two-thirds majority. House action is not required.

"Of World Importance"

"It is of great national importance; it is of tremendous world importance," Morse told his colleagues yesterday.

The resolution would give Senate consent to the President's declaring American acceptance of compulsory jurisdiction of the world court in cases involving only:

(A) Interpretation of a treaty, (b) a question of international law, or (c) a fact constituting a breach of an international obligation or reparations for such a breach.

The resolution attaches several conditions. A primary one stating the United States would let the court decide a case only if the other nations also accepted compulsory jurisdiction.

SCARCE ITEMS SENT TO CITY

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—City dwellers can forget their dreams of fine, fancy food back on the farm.

Take it from Rep. Stephen Pace (D-Ga.), city people now have it all over country folks when it comes to eating.

"It's been that way ever since the war started," Pace complained to a House agriculture sub-committee yesterday. "When shortages come, it's the country folks who get hit first."

Pace told the sub-committee, which is looking into the shortages of fats and oils, that wholesalers take care of the city trade but ignore the small towns.

"Do you know where the salad oils, the compounds and the lard are being shipped in my state?" he asked. "Atlanta, that's where. You won't find an ounce outside of Atlanta."

Pace said he understands the same thing is true all over the country.

Many Rural Complaints

"We get complaints from everywhere," he said. "And they're rural, every one of them."

O. W. Herman, acting director of the Department of Agriculture's fats and oils division, said he knew some sections aren't getting their fair share. But he said the department has set up an emergency supply to take care of these regions.

He added the shortages likely would continue for another 18 months.

Harry Reed, who directs the livestock branch of the Department of Agriculture, agreed. He noted that the pig crop was 17 per cent off last year's figure.

Rep. Hal Holmes (R-Wash.), who runs a livestock ranch at Ellensburg, Wash., wondered whether off-season pig market romances wouldn't help correct this deficit, and Reed said, yes, he thought it would.

All this talk made everyone pretty hungry. So the committee adjourned to eat some fine city food.

NATIONS NEED UNDERSTANDING

New York, August 1 (P)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie said today that the success of the United Nations hinged directly on the big powers seeking agreement among themselves in a spirit of understanding and compromise and that failure would mean "the triumph of destruction."

Declaring that he did not feel that the world agency so far had fulfilled the broad hopes placed in it, Lie said that the power of veto granted to the big five "imposed upon them an obligation to seek agreement among themselves."

"The United Nations was not designed to perform the functions of a peace conference nor was it equipped to act as a referee between the great powers," he said in a lengthy report for the general assembly. "It was founded upon the basic assumption that there would be agreement between the permanent members (big five) of the Security Council upon major issues."

"Many of the issues which have come before the Security Council have arisen from inability to reach such agreement."

Lie is on a trip to Europe and the report was released by his office here. It included a comprehensive discussion of the work of all organs of the U. N. since the world agency set up headquarters here last March and will be presented to the assembly when that body convenes September 23.

BULLETINS

Paris, Aug. 1 (P)—Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, put the 21-nation peace conference here on notice today that the U. N. Assembly meets in New York September 23 and that the two meetings "simply can not be held at the same time."

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—President Truman announced today he is appointing Keen Johnson, former governor of Kentucky, as undersecretary of Labor, and William L. Clayton undersecretary of State in charge of economic affairs.

Tunkhannock, Pa., Aug. 1 (P)—Attractive Mrs. Florence Randall won a new trial today on an accessory charge in the slaying of her husband, Boat Concessionaire Charles Randall.

MEDALS AWARDED

Berlin, Aug. 1 (P)—Twelve officers and enlisted men from the U. S. Army's Berlin district forces who have rendered outstanding service since V-E day have been awarded the army commendation ribbon by Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating, commander of the Berlin garrison.

The first steam vessel voyage to India was made in 1825.

Upper Communities

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yoder and daughters, Barbara and Cecelia, are on vacation this week in Atlantic City.

The Biglerville Teen Age Canteen committee, has discontinued the weekly programs of entertainment for the youth of the community. During the summer of 1945 the Canteen operated one night each week with considerable success. However, this summer there was little interest shown, which prompted the closing. The funds which were used to operate the canteen were donated by various persons and service organizations in the Biglerville community. The adult committee was composed of Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Henry Tilton, Cyrus Bucher and Earl Crum.

Tommy Arnold is spending some time at Camp Shohla, Greeley, Pa.

Nancy Arnold is at Camp Lake Greely.

Luther Gulden and not Mrs. Gulden has returned from the Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Earl Ecker, Biglerville, was among those who spent Sunday at Rhodes Grove, near Greencastle.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Sell and son Tommy, North Tonawanda, N. Y., are spending this week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sell.

Mrs. Paul Ditzler spent Wednesday in York.

Mrs. Earl Carey and son Dean, were visitors in York Wednesday.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Knouse, Bendersville, who are at their cottage at Pine Grove, were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Knouse, Miss Martha Knouse, Robert Knouse, Silver Run, Md. Recent guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Raffensperger, Jack Raffensperger, of Sparrows Point, Md., Lloyd Hecht, Dundalk, Md. Mr. and Mrs. M. Menges, P. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Myers, Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. George Powell, of Landsdowne.

Mrs. Carl Hildebrand and daughters Clara Lou and Lola Ann and son Edgar spent Wednesday at York.

Publishers To Mark Pennsylvania Week

Harrisburg, Aug. 1 (P)—The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association has joined other statewide organizations in preparing plans for "Pennsylvania Week" from Sept. 17 to 22 inclusive.

The association, in a resolution adopted yesterday, urged all publishers to assist in stimulating interest in the project designed "to bring more industries and more tourists into Pennsylvania and its various communities."

HIJACKERS OF MEAT JAILED

Camden, N. J., Aug. 1 (P)—Seven men who pleaded guilty to charges of hijacking meat were sentenced to prison terms ranging from two months to three years yesterday.

Federal district Judge Thomas M. Madden imposed sentence after having each defendant brought before him for questioning with the announced aim of getting a clear picture of the case.

Charles Hunsinger and Walter Svincinsky, both of Trenton, admitted during questioning that the meat, taken in a robbery at the Camden airport circle June 15, was sold in Philadelphia for $9.90.

The two told the court they failed to turn over to their partners $450 of the money.

Manlove S. Jones, Wilmington, Del., driver of the hijacked truck, said he permitted himself to be kidnapped on a promise of receiving $25,000. Actually, he said, he received only $1,000.

The meat, said the accused, was sold to Henry Matuszewski and the proceeds given to Philip Mitchell of Townsend, Del., whom they named as leader of the gang.

Jones was sentenced to three years as was Mitchell, while Hunsinger and Svincinsky were given a year and a day each and Matuszewski four months.

John E. Wilson and John S. Bernath, both of Trenton, drew terms of 18 months and two months respectively.

Probers Seek BEFORE VOTERS

a Tacoma, Wash., defense contractor to Paul A. Olson, former secretary to Representative Coffee (D-Wash.). Otherwise, McGranery said, he would have submitted the facts to a grand jury.

2. Coffee acknowledged there was "perhaps a question of ethics" involved in the case but denied that either he or Olson was "guilty of any crime."

Questions Competence

3. Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.), a committee member, raised in the Senate a question as to the "technical competence" and "moral caliber" of General Walt, whose testimony concerning the chemical shell failures, he said, contained "errors and contradictions."

4. Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) expressed the hope to the Senate the committee would have something to say about what he termed the "arrogance" of General Brehon Somervell, retired chief of the army service forces. Magnuson contended Somervell had "squandered practically $300,000,000 of American money" in connection with the wartime Alaska highway and canal projects.

5. The Erie Basin firm went before the U. S. tax court to fight the government's effort to get a cash return of $385,874 of alleged excessive profits made in 1943. The War department's war contracts price adjustment board claimed that the companies profits for one year amounted to 150 times its "tangible net worth."

To Open Records

6. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), urged that records of the committee be examined by any one preparing the government's defense to Erie's court petition.

In an address to the Senate, Senator Mitchell remarked that General Walt had not been able to learn the cause for the shell failures "but found time to go to fancy parties, even as American boys spiced blood because somebody fell down on the job back home."

His reference was to attendance by General Walt and other chemical warfare service officers at a wedding party given by Murray Garsson, one of the promoters of the Erie Basin and Affiliated companies.

Steady Progress In State Farm Products

Harrisburg, Aug. 1 (P)—Farm crops in Pennsylvania were showing steady progress as July closed and prices for farm products made sharp advances to hit an all-time record of 254 points based on 1909-1914 averages as 100.

The State Department of Agriculture's weather and crop summary disclosed that rain delayed harvesting in some parts of the state and cool nights retarded plant development, but there were bumper crops of huckleberries and blackberries being picked during the past week.

WEIGH DECISION ON BREAD HIKE

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—The government is trying to reach a decision today on whether to allow price increases of a penny a loaf on bread and about a cent a pound on flour.

Top OPA and Agriculture Department officials conferred on this as the new price control board pushed plans to start public hearings by August 12 on this issue?

Should price ceilings be restored August 20 on meats, dairy products, grains, cotton seed and soy beans?

Chairman Roy L. Thompson announced last night that as soon as the board has decided this, it will tackle the question of whether controls should go back on eggs, poultry, tobacco and petroleum.

Ceilings cannot be re-invoked on these latter items before August 20 in any event, nor thereafter without consent of the board.

Boost Said Recommended

As for the possibility of higher bread and flour prices, an official in a position to know told a reporter privately that a boost in ceilings has been recommended to OPA Chief Paul Porter by his aides.

However, even if Porter concurs, the approval of the Agriculture Department is required to put increases on these food items into effect.

Ice box leftovers can be glorified into tempting salads if scraps are well combined.

An appeal by league officials was made today for the starting of Community Softball tilts promptly following difficulties which arose Wednesday evening.

One official pointed out that with the evenings becoming noticeably shorter each day it is imperative to have games started on time in order to complete full games.

Knox's Grocery defeated the American Legion 6-4 in the opener on the high school field in a game which was halted at the end of the sixth inning in order to permit the Elks and Marketeers to play the second game. However, darkness halted the latter tilt at the end of the fourth inning with the Marketeers on top 5-2.

Two Hit Homers

Two runs in the fifth inning broke a 4-4 deadlock which enabled the grocery-men to triumph. The Legion tied the score at 4-all with a four-run rally in the third which was featured by successive homers by Utech and Howard over the left field fence. Utech's drive came with two runners aboard. Felix and Cole formed the battery for the winners while Bobby March and Nick Jones worked for the Legion.

The Moose gained a 9-0 forfeit when the State Guard was unable to muster sufficient players to put a team on the field for the first game at college.

In the nightcap George Houck pitched one-hit ball to give the Acme a 2-1 verdict over the W. E. Aires. The lone hit was a homerun to deep center by Finkboner in the second inning and came after the league leaders had tabbed a pair of runs in the top half of the same frame.

Fight For Second In Interstate Loop

(By The Associated Press)

With Wilmington a full nine games in front of the pack, the battle for second place—with at least four teams contending for the spot—provided the main interest in the Interstate league today.

The fifth-place Allentown Canaries reduced runner-up Harrisburg's advantage over them to 6½ games by registering a 10 to 7 triumph last night.

Hagerstown, in third—three games out of second—defeated Lancaster 8 to 3, while fourth-place Sunbury was outscored Wilmington, 8 to 4.

Trenton edged last-place York, 7 to 6, in the other game played.

Tonight's schedule: Sunbury at Harrisburg; Allentown at Wilmington; York at Hagerstown, and Lancaster at Trenton.

Golfer Is Killed By Lightning Bolt

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 1 (AP)—William Schmidt, Jr., 29, athletic coach at University high school, Cleveland, was killed by lightning while playing golf on the Park Hill golf course here Tuesday.

Schmidt, leading his foursome, was approaching the sixth green when he was struck.

Coach Schmidt played football at Altoona high school and was graduated from Colgate university. After coaching for a time in Cleveland, he entered the navy in 1942, became a navigator and a lieutenant (j.g.) and was discharged last March. He would have resumed his coaching duties this fall.

LAWYER BIDS WITH BANKER FOR PIRATES

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1 (AP)—A Pittsburgh lawyer and an Indianapolis banker each have an equal chance of buying the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National league, says Club President William E. Benswanger. But the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, after reporting an exclusive conversation with Ford Frick, president of the National league, stated flatly "the Indianapolis man (Frank McKinney) was just as good as in as the Pirates' new owner."

Frick, in New York, was quoted by the Post-Gazette as saying "Mr. McKinney must first dispose of his stock with the Boston Braves." Baseball law provides that no one can own stock in two clubs in the big leagues, Frick explained. McKinney reportedly owns 10 per cent of the Boston Braves' stock.

No Action This Week

Charles J. Margiotti, a former attorney general of Pennsylvania, is the Pittsburgh attorney who seeks to purchase the Pirates. He indicates he has the inside track for the proposed purchase.

Benswanger said no action on the sale of the last-place club could come until the end of next week, at the earliest, in deference to Frick's wishes. He said, however, that McKinney who owns the Indianapolis club in the American association, would be in Pittsburgh for an appointment "about the last of next week."

Margiotti talked with Benswanger for two hours yesterday but his statement on what took place only added confusion to the club's sale.

Benswanger also insisted no deal has been consummated but indicated the club's sale "is likely."

"Mr. Benswanger assured me that no option had been given to Mr. McKinney or anyone else," Margiotti said. "He also said I will have an opportunity to increase my offer to meet that of any other prospective purchaser."

"Until Mr. McKinney entered the picture, Mr. Benswanger and I had practically agreed on terms and were ready to sign contracts," he told reporters. "We would have signed this week."

Margiotti declared he represents no client, but wishes to make the purchase himself, in conjunction with several other Pittsburghers.

Regardless of who buys the club, the Post-Gazette declared "Benswanger would remain in the Pirate picture, more than likely in the capacity of president."

CARDS JUMP ON BROOK HURLERS FOR 10-3 WIN

By JOE REICHLER
(AP) Sports Writer

The best laid plans of mice and men go astray and then, as Leo Durocher, masterminding manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers is ready to admit today.

The loquacious Leo, whose unorthodox albeit uncanny managerial moves have pulled many a game out of the fire this year, saw his latest bit of strategy backfire on him yesterday as the second place St. Louis Cardinals belatedly south-paw Joe Hatten and two successors for 15 hits and a 10-3 victory over the National league leaders.

The Card triumph evened the "crucial" series between the two contenders and once again the Brooks lead stands at two and a half games with the rubber contest to be played today.

Twenty For Feller

The Card-Dodger tussle overshadowed Bobby Feller's scintillating one-hit pitching exhibition against the Boston Red Sox as he registered his 20th victory by twirling the Cleveland Indians to a 4-1 victory.

The triumph gave Feller another line in the record books as it tied Eddie Joss' Major league standard of seven one-hit games. Joss also hurled for the Indians.

The Detroit Tigers replaced the New York Yankees as Boston's closest rival by defeating the Bronxites 6-0 to wrest second place from their victims by one percentage point. Both teams trail the Red Sox by 1½ games.

Claude Passeau, recuperating from an ailing back which has sidelined him for almost two weeks, pitched the third place Chicago Cubs to an 8-1 victory over the New York Giants.

Phillies Lost Both

A triple to the right field corner by Connie Ryan scored Nanny Fernandez from first base with the winning run in the ninth inning as the Boston Braves edged out the cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1.

After dropping six straight in Shibe park, the Cincinnati Reds turned about and downed the Philadelphia Phillies twice, 4-3 and 2-0.

Helped by Bob Kennedy's fourth home run, the Chicago White Sox scored three times in the ninth inning to come from behind and defeat the Philadelphia Athletics 3-2. Four hits and an error produced four runs in the eighth inning for the St. Louis Browns, enough to beat the Washington Senators 6-2.

InterState League

(By The Associated Press)

Eastern league managers realigned their pitching staffs today to meet late season twin bill emergencies, caused by weather postponements.

All teams will play double headers tonight, as a result of last night's rain which washed out the entire schedule.

Tonight's games: Albany at Williamsport, (2); Binghamton at Scranton, (2); Hartford at Elmira, (2); Utica at Wilkes-Barre, (2).

Passengers Saved From Burning Ship

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER

(Pinch-hitting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Louisville Merry-go-round had as much chance of going to Detroit as a G.I. has of mistaking spam for sirloin smothered in mushrooms.

Mauriello lives in the Bronx and Uncle Mike Jacobs expects his cash registers to sing their snappiest song with Bronx "cabbage" contributed to see the local hero.

Point one for Yankee Stadium. . . . Mike's contract with the stadium (and incidentally, the Polo Grounds, which cuts in on the rent) is all signed, sealed and put in the safe.

Point No. 2. . . . If he goes into Detroit, Uncle Mike would have to cut the local promoter "in."

In Detroit that would be Nick Londer, and Mike and Nick love each other about as much as pickles and ice cream.

The last time they collided, in a local restaurant, a sports writer stepped in between just in time to save both of them from making the serious error of not charging for tickets for a show.

Can you picture Mike giving Nick a chance to make a buck?

Four Winds, Charlie Fisher's filly who won the Arlington Lassie Stakes, is a kid sister to Sirocco, who beat Gallahadion and Bimelech in the 1940 classic at the graveyard of champions.

Grace Lenczyk, 18-year-old Newington, Conn., gal, and Allene Nelson, the new Des Moines city champ, are being tabbed as golf comers in the national picture.

Renews Demand For Special Session

Harrisburg, Aug. 1 (AP)—Col. John S. Rice, Democratic candidate for governor, has renewed his demand for a special session of the legislature "to correct conditions in our state mental institutions." Following cancellation of a Veterans' Administration contract with the Philadelphia state hospital at Byberry.

"Let us make it impossible for another black chapter to be added to the sordid story of Pennsylvania's shame," said Rice yesterday in a statement issued at Democratic state headquarters.

Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, state welfare secretary, said she had no knowledge of a contract existing between the commonwealth and the Veterans' Administration to care for veterans at Byberry.

to get the okay to become a big league, then how come no club in the loop has been able to top the 7.210 average per game attendance this season? . . . Only Oakland's that high, incidentally. . . . 35 of the 46 players on Penn State's football squad will be pre-war stock.

No freshmen and only a handful of holdovers. . . . Latest movie actor in the horse business is tough-guy Alan Ladd—paid $2,500 for a colt at the recent California sales.

Inflied Ben Reese of Thomasville in the Georgia-Florida league claims he won't shave until he's batting .400. . . . Latest average shows him about 40 points short.

Now the fans want a ground rule allowing only two bases on a ball lost in Ben's chin spinach.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Motor Club May Be Formed Here:
Gettysburg will likely have a motor club.

At least that is the hope of several of the influential leaders of the community who have tried to organize the motorists of the town and county into an organization to be part of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

A committee of five met Wednesday noon to discuss plans. The members of this committee are H. C.
Mitinger, chairman, Henry Scharf,
I. L. Taylor, Edmund Thomas and Robert Miller.

H. H. Miller Is Elected Head of Commerce Body: H. H. Miller, manager of the Gettysburg Gas company, was signally honored by the directors Tuesday evening, by being elected president of the board.
Mr. Miller succeeds Edmund W.
Thomas as president.

George W. Bochner, East Lincoln avenue, was elected vice-president at the meeting, and David Blocher was unanimously re-elected treasurer of the organization.

Directors present at the meeting
Tuesday were Edmund W. Thomas,
W. A. Miller, David Blocher, George
W. Bochner, C. A. Bixler, A. A.
Jones, Henry Scharf, H. C. Mitinger and P. W. Stallsmith.

Move to New Home: Mr. and Mrs.
Radford J. Lippy moved on Wednesday from the Rex apartments, York street, to their newly erected home on Springs avenue. Miss Elsie R.
Appler has moved with the Lippys from the Reformed parsonage on Carlisle street.

Simple Funeral for R. T. Lincoln:
(By Associated Press) Manchester, Vt., July 28 — A funeral service in keeping with the quiet dignity and simplicity of his life was to mark the final rites here late this afternoon for Robert Todd Lincoln, son of President Lincoln.

The Rev. B. Cunningham Graham, pastor of the Congregational church, had been asked to officiate, and pallbearers included members of the body of the former war secretary and minister to Great Brittain will rest for several months in a vault at the base of Ekwonok mountain until taken to the family tomb in Springfield, Illinois.

Pastor Tells of Mexican Crisis
Among Catholics: Catholics in Gettysburg and Adams county knelt in simple and direct prayers for their "persecuted brethren in Mexico" at the masses held in all parishes Sunday.

The prayers in this diocese were but part of the world-wide observance of the Feast of St. Peter in chains. More than 20,000,000 Catholics throughout the United States joined in the observance.

In his sermon, the Rev. Father Mark Stock explained the Mexican situation to his parishioners and gave a brief history of the Mexican government, the origin of the natives there and the manner in which Catholicism gained such a strong foothold in the country to the south.

Butler Township Gets Show Honor: Miss Marie Thomas, of near Biglerville, was awarded the first prize ribbon in three of the four classes of gladioli shown at the first gladiolus display under the auspices of the Gettysburg Flower club at the fire engine house Saturday, and also the sweepstake cash prize offered by the Gettysburg Times.

The judging was done by Dr. Norman Keefer, gladiolus expert.
The winners were: Reds, first,
Miss Marie Thomas; second, John Kadel, Gettysburg; pinks, first, Miss Marie Thomas; second, Mrs. John Kadel, Gettysburg; near white, first,
Mrs. Emory Hohn, Gettysburg;
mixed, first, Miss Marie Thomas;
second, Miss Lucille Thomas, York

Today's Talk

BOUNDLESS STREETS
Stephen Crane tells of his experience at sea, after a shipwreck in his story "The Open Boat." It was a tragic trip to land again, each man of the four concentrating all upon the oars, Crane stating that "none knew the color of the sky." I have often thought of that remark, as I have paced the busy streets of the city. People looking down, and forward, mostly—few knowing the color of the sky.

But here at Weskawaak, the sky and its color, the patterns of the clouds against the blue, and the green foliage of the pines form a most glorious sight—a sight of peacefulness, and silent awe. There are no pavements here—just velvety, mossy paths that wind and lead one ever to new vistas, each one never the same.

It has taken me forty years to earn this modest retreat and it has flowered my life with joy, happy memories, and communion with all of Nature's offerings. In Nature you can select your friends, and your loves, and you unconsciously become enriched. Here upon this island there is spiritual warmth. The green and freshly fragrant branches of the pines reach out and spread their welcome, humanly inanimate.
My deep regret is that I can share these rocky shores with but an intimate few, but I can share my thoughts here with millions, many of whom often experienced what I now experience, having that inbred understanding and appreciation that repeatedly ripen in the presence of natural beauty.

Here there are no boundless streets, no harsh noises, no rush for gain, no angry voices, no traffic jams—just an arena of peace, spiced with bird calls, the scent of wild flowers, and the warmth of dancing shadows underneath the glow of the sunlight. Here you are the slave of no one but yourself! Nature exacts nothing but your adherence to her laws.

In my hammock, on the rustic verandah, I read without loneliness, and I toss peanuts to my friendly red squirrels that keep interrupting me in my thoughts, but somehow I don't mind. After all, it was their land first! A hammock!
A thing not enjoyed since my boy-hood days in the little Michigan town.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Rainy Days"

GRANDPA WISDOM
A grandpa, as I've often said, Must know how fishing lines are threaded.

And how the leaders should be tied
So minnows show their silver side.
For these are matters of concern
To little boys who want to learn.

A grandpa, worth the name, must know
The proper way a boat to row.
He may be wise in business terms,
But he must know the place for worms

And how to fix them on a hook
Attractive to the fish to look.

A grandpa won't amount to much
If with the bass he's out of touch.
If he's forgotten where they lie
And where to cast a frog or fly,
Some other man who knows will be Considered wiser far than he.

MAN IDENTIFIES KNIFE USED BY GEORGE HEIRENS

Chicago, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune said today that it had "found the man from whom William George Heirens, 17, stole the knife he used to hack little Suzanne Degnan, 6, after she was kidnapped from her home on January 7."

The Tribune said that the knife, which had been found in the vicinity of the Degnan home by an elevated track worker shortly after the slay-ing, had been identified by Guy E.
Rodrick, 21, as one stolen from his apartment last December 3. It said that Rodrick previously had identified a .22 caliber pistol and other articles which had been stolen at the same time and which had been found in Heirens' room.

The Tribune said that Rodrick, a summer student at Northwestern university, turned over to police two hard rubber grips that he had removed from the pistol before it was stolen and they have the series number of the pistol. It said that ballistics tests have established the gun as the weapon used in the shooting of Mrs. Marian Caldwell in her apartment on December 5.

Describes Knife
The paper said that when Rodrick had appeared to identify the gun before the grand jury that indicted the 17-year-old University of Chicago student in the Caldwell shooting last month, he had described the missing knife and sketched it in minute detail on a piece of paper in the office of Charles Wilson, head of the police crime detection laboratory. The knife is being examined for finger prints and blood stains.

The Tribune said it had told State's Attorney William J. Tuohy that Rodrick had "positively identified the knife," and he said: "This is undoubtedly one of the strongest pieces of circumstantial evidence yet uncovered in the case against Heirens."

Heirens has been indicted on charges of murder in the slaying of the Degnan child and also for the "lipstick" slaying of Miss Frances Brown, 33-year-old former WAVE.
He also has been indicted on 29 charges of burglary, robbery and assault and his arraignment on all charges is scheduled for August 14.

Nazi Rocket Soars 104 Miles In Air

White Sands, N. M., Aug. 1 (AP)— miles in altitude for a new world's record in a test at the army's White Sands proving ground.

The 14-ton guided missile, assembled from captured parts, beat by 20.5 miles the altitude record set
July 9 in the seventh of the tests.
Another firing is slated for August

Hillside, Colo., July 31 (AP)—Cow-

Meyers started after the horse but found a large bear running toward him.
"What did you do?" asked other cowboys when Meyers showed up at the ranch still afoot and out of breath.

"Well," replied Meyers, "the bear and I reversed directions and continued to run like hell."

Senate Confirms 2 Pa. Judgeships

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—James P.
McGranery of Philadelphia, assistant to the attorney general, was confirmed unanimously by the Senate as a judge on the U. S. District Court for eastern Pennsylvania just a few hours after President Truman nominated him for the post yesterday.

Pennsylvania's two Democratic senators, Joseph F. Guffey and Francis J. Myers, both recommended the appointment.

McGranery takes the seat recently vacated by Judge Harry E.
Kalodner whose nomination for a seat on the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia was confirmed by the Senate last week.

Also confirmed by the Senate was the nomination of Frederick V.
Follmer, U. S. attorney for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, for the newly-created district court judgeship covering the three judicial districts of Pennsylvania.

McGranery is a former congressman. Follmer's home is at Milton,

2 Connecticut Men Seek Garrett Fund

Philadelphia, Aug. 1 (AP)—Two Connecticut men filed 36 birth, marriage and death certificates in orphans court in an effort to prove their claim to the $20,000,000 Garrett snuff fortune.

The men, Fred Brink, of Stratford, and Edward Brink, Jr., of Hartford, collected the evidence in 12 years of search which they said took their agents a number of times to Europe.

The certificates were filed with Orphans Court Master William M.
Davison, Jr., over the objections of attorneys for the state of Pennsylvania who asserted they were not properly authenticated.

The two men were to be cross examined by attorneys today in an attempt to establish relationship to Henrietta Schaeffer Garrett who died intestate November 16, 1930.

The fortune was amassed by Walter Garrett, wealthy Quaker snuff manufacturer, who died shortly after 1900.

More than 22,000 persons have filed claim to the fortune and since 1930 approximately 19,000 have been disproved.

HUNDREDS ARE MAROONED BY FLASH FLOODS

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 1 (AP)— Wyoming Valley (Pa.) residents surveyed damage today after a cloudburst swept flash floods into nearly a dozen cities and towns marooning hundreds of persons in upper floors of their homes.
No fatalities were reported. Damage was estimated at thousands of dollars.

More than five inches of rain fell during four hours yesterday afternoon, John B. Mirmak, official river observer for the federal-state flood forecasting service, announced.
He said it was the heaviest rainfall in the 11 years of the service.

The cloudburst sent swift-running mountain streams spilling over their banks.

Town Inundated
Plymouth, located on the west bank of the Susquehanna river just three miles south of here, was the hardest hit. Two creeks overflowed and inundated the town's business district and residential areas.

Police reported the rainstorm caused the worst traffic jam in 15 years in Wilkes-Barre. Hundreds of automobiles, their ignition short-circuited by water sweeping under their hoods, stalled in the streets.

Approximately 200 homes were reported flooded in nearby Swoyerville.
Other communities flooded included plains, Courtdale, West Pittston, Pittston, Wyoming, West Wyoming,
Forty Fort and Larksville.

Officials blamed the flood waters on failure of the storm drainage systems to carry off the swiftly accumulated volume of water. The dike system along the Susquehanna was not involved and the cloudburst caused no alarming rise in the river.

Camp Is Closed By Polio Scare

Butler, Pa., Aug. 1 (AP)—Evacuation of 130 Pittsburgh and Cleveland children and counsellors from Camp Gall on Conoquessing creek was complete by Butler county health authorities late yesterday, three days after the death of a counsellor from infantile paralysis.

Two children, Alan and Anita Orlan, both of Cleveland, are being kept under observation in a hospital here but it was not determined if they are suffering from polio.
Neither was reported seriously ill.

Dr. A. W. Lehnerd, Butler county health officer, said the death of David Schwartz, 18, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was due to infantile paralysis.

Strict controls were applied as the children and counsellors were evacuated. A chartered bus removed 29, while others were taken home in private cars. None was permitted to travel on public conveyances.

Dr. Lehnerd said state permission had been granted for all the campers to go home. Health authorities in home cities were notified so that the campers may be kept under observation for 14-day incubation period.

The Gall Association of Cleveland had operated the camp for boys and girls.

Claim Ringer Run At Rockingham Park

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—An eight-state investigation by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau shifted to New Hampshire today after the alleged discovery of a $30,000 betting coup at Rockingham park on a horse which turfdom's
"FBI" charged had been run as a
"ringer" the past eight months.

Spencer Drayton, the former FBI man who now heads the TRPB, said the horse in question had been running in Florida and New England since last November as Allpuch, a five-year-old brown gelding once purchased for only $210.

Actually, Drayton charged, the horse is Sea Command, a five-year-old son of War Admiral.

GOP PLATFORM MAKER NAMED

Harrisburg, Aug. 1 (AP)—Frederick
C. Peters, former state representative and Montgomery county's Republican chairman, has been entrusted with the task of drawing up
"a short, concise and specific" platform for the state Republican party.

Peters was named chairman of the G.O.P.'s platform committee yesterday following a meeting of party leaders and was authorized to name as many advisers or advisory committees as he deemed necessary.

M. Harvey Taylor, state Republican chairman, said the work of the platform committee would be completed before a meeting of the state executive committee today at Pittsburgh on September 7.

While no specific planks were discussed at the meeting Taylor said the platform committee would meet again as soon as the advisory committees can complete their work and report to the main committee.

Platform Planks
The advisory committees are expected to work on planks covering labor, agriculture, veterans, industry, education, conservation, home-ways, taxation, and small business.

Taylor said the group that met to start work on drawing up a platform consisted of Governor Martin, candidate for the U. S. Senate; Attorney General James H. Duff, seeking to succeed Martin as governor; Brig. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, aspirant for Lt. Governor; William S. Livengood, Jr., running for the third term as Secretary of Internal

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

WE HAVE A PROFITABLE FRANCHISE available for progressive men with capital to finance a gasoline station and wholesale distributing center of a nationally known line of gasoline fuel oils and lubricating oils in towns and communities throughout York, Adams, Franklin, Cumberland, Dauphin and Lancaster counties.

Present owners or operators of gas stations now located in any communities in these counties can substantially and profitably increase their present operation by investigating this very interesting proposition.

taxes printed on them, to make the ducat's legal.

12 Chinese Killed
Ambushing Marines

Peiping, Aug. 1 (AP)—The U. S.
Marine Corps announced today that an estimated 12 Chinese were killed among the 300 who ambushed a marine convoy Monday southeast of Peiping.

The corps previously had placed the marine casualties at three dead and 12 wounded.

(Yenan radio, in a broadcast of a dispatch by the communist New China news agency, said today that the clash, rather than being an ambush, actually was an attack by more than 60 marines and 80 Chinese government troops on a village, compelling communist soldiers of the eighth route army "to defend themselves.")

(The Yenan broadcast, heard in Nanking, was the first actual communist identification of communist troops involved.)

The marine corps' announcement said the number of Chinese wounded was not known. It listed the marine dead as one officer and two enlisted men.

The officer was killed at the outset by a grenade hurled at his command jeep.

MANY HIGH BIDS RECEIVED FOR TWO PIPELINES

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—War assets administration officials today began a detailed study of 16 complex proposals for the government-owned Big and Little Inch pipelines.

The bids were opened and read publicly yesterday, but it will take several weeks for the agency to complete its analysis and decide whether it can accept any of the offers.

They ranged as high as $146,000-000 to buy and $226,000,000 for a 40-year lease.

Some bids came from firms already established. Others were from individuals or groups who planned to organize corporations or cooperatives to take over the war-built lines which cost the government $145,800,000.

L. G. Marshall, chief of WAA's utilities division, said it will take at least 30 days for his staff to make a detailed study of the proposals. It will not be possible to determine the successful bidder, if any, until that study is completed, he said.

However, Marshall declared the "proposals look very promising."

He said he could not say now whether further congressional approval might be needed to allow sale or lease for possible conversion of the lines to use as conveyors of natural gas rather than oil and oil products.

Some of the bids called for conversion of both lines to gas transportation. Others would use the lines for gas and oil and others proposed use of them to carry only oil and oil products. Payment plans submitted ranged from government acceptance of purchasers' stock to private and public financing through loans and bond and stock sales.

The $146,000,000 purchase offer for the lines came from Frank M.
McCraw, of Anniston, Ala., along with a proviso that there should be a 4 per cent yearly reduction for depreciation from the time the lines first were put into use by the government. The purchase would be made through rental payments.

Other Proposals
E. Holley Poe, of Stamford, Conn., and New York city, offered to lease the lines for 40 years for $260-000,000 payable in annual instalments from income. Poe also offered to purchase the lines for $80,000,000 cash plus payments raising the figure to $100,000,000 should sales of natural gas go above a certain ceiling.

WAA said one offer, that of L. M.
Glasco, of Dallas, Texas, and associates, called for lease of the Little Inch line but removal from its present location. It would be relocated between the Permian Basin in West Texas and California and operate as a common carrier of crude oil. The agency added the group would form a corporation which would defray all operating and removing costs, but would require government financing to make possible its proposed 50-year lease.

The Big Inch line, 1,340 miles long, extends from Longview to the New York-Philadelphia refinery area. The Little Inch, 1,475 miles long, extends from the Texas Gulf coast refinery area to the New York area.

Carpenter Indicted
For Fiancee Slaying

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1 (AP)—William Leffard, 53, McKeesport carpenter-contractor, was indicted for murder yesterday in the death of his fiancee, attractive brunette Mary Williams.
The commonwealth charges Leffard shot Miss Williams through the right temple following an argument in which she is reported to have told him she was "through" with him. The shooting occurred on a McKeesport street.

YIP-EEE
St. Augustine, Fla., Aug. 1—This city, which claims the honor of being the country's oldest, has hired a part-time cowboy.

His job will be to round-up stampeding cattle which, the police say, have been storming out of nearby woods and causing damage.

The cowboy, Pete Bradlock, has been equipped with horse, whip and lariat and told to herd into city pound every stray cow he can lay a rope on.

Army Air Forces
Observes Birthday

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—The Army Air Forces, which began with three men and no airplanes, celebrated its 39th birthday today with a flourish in keeping with its war stature as the world's mightiest.

Some 400 of the thousands of combat aircraft left over from V-J day were lined up for sky reviews over many of the principal cities of the United States.

Thirty B-29 superfortresses were ordered out from their Okinawa bases for another flight over the wartime target cities of Tokyo, Yokohama, Hiroshima, and Osaka—this time without bombs.

President Truman accepted an invitation to a dinner here at which General Carl Spaatz, Air Force commander, was host.

A telegram from Orville Wright, the pioneer aviator who with his brother Wilbur built the army's first aircraft, stood out among congratulations received by the air forces. "Probably no military organization ever had a smaller beginning or a more rapid growth," he said.

Auto Interrupts Traffic Debate

London, Aug. (P)—An automobile being pursued by a police car at 70 miles an hour through London's streets crashed through the railing outside the House of Commons early today and hurtled down 12 feet onto the house of Commons "Speaker's Green." One person

TERMINAL PAY BILL GOES TO TRUMAN'S DESK

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—The $3,000,000 GI terminal pay bill headed for President Truman's desk today as House members laid plans to get around its "payment in bonds" provision early next year.

The measure cleared both chambers of Congress yesterday. Acting last, the house contented itself for the present with denouncing the Senate-inspired bond-payment plan. Members were afraid to reject it lest the legislation get lost in controversy during the closing days of the session.

But the chamber left no doubt regarding its future plans. From both sides of the aisle came demands that the new Congress, convening next January, enact a bill permitting holders of the bonds to cash them immediately instead of waiting the required five years from date of discharge.

Officers Paid In Cash

Republican leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts joined Democratic members in criticizing the bond provision. Many called it discrimination against GIs, since officers have been receiving their terminal pay in cash.

President Truman himself advanced the bond plan, describing it as less-inflationary than straight cash payments. But Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) told his colleagues the administration had not been concerned about inflation when it backed the $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.), co-author of the furlough pay bill and leader of the fight that brought it to its first vote in the House last June 11, announced he would introduce on the first day of the new Congress a bill to allow the bonds to be converted into cash immediately.

MAY APPROVE BIG LOCKHEADS BY SEPTEMBER

Washington, August 1 (P) — The speedy Lockheed Constellation, high-flying transport presently grounded because of a training flight crash, probably will be back in service by mid-September.

An airline official in a position to know made this forecast today, asking that he not be named.

Grounding of the four-engined Constellation the day after the July 11 accident near Reading, Pa., stranded many international air travelers. It also upset the schedules of Pan American Airways, American Overseas, Transcontinental & Western Air, and British Overseas Airways, all of which were using the big Lockheed-built planes in Trans-Atlantic services.

Suggest Changes

The situation today is this:

1. Engineers of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Lockheed Aircraft Corporation and the airlines have agreed upon certain changes which should be made in the interest of safety.

2. The airlines have estimated that these changes can be made in seven weeks or less.

3. The changes include substitution of copper for aluminum at certain places in the electrical system; relocation of some hydraulic lines; cutting of some holes to drain leaking hydraulic fluids; installation of new fire walls at some points, and substitution of fuel injection for the present carburetion system.

Cause of Crash

Joseph B. Duckworth, director of the Civil Aeronautics Board Safety Bureau, said at a hearing into the Reading crash yesterday that "an electrical source" apparently started the fire which led to the mishap.

Five-TWA employees were killed and one was injured in the Reading crash. The CAA grounding order was issued on the assumption that an engine fire caused the accident.

Since then, however, there has been evidence that the accident resulted from a fire in the forward baggage compartment which filled the cockpit with smoke when a door was opened. This blinded the pilot.

was killed. The crash interrupted a long Commons debate on the traffic code.

Women Hold Out For Higher Wages

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1 (P)—"The girls who used to want white collar jobs now want the same jobs with a ruffle around the collar."

It was Edward Gluck, manager of the United States employment service, speaking as he rifled through a pack of "help wanted" cards.

"That's the reason for the dearth of employees we have to offer to business men who come in here seeking office workers," said Gluck.

"Lots of these girls have saved up money from their war jobs and are just sitting out the situation until business gets better and they can demand higher wages," he went on.

"Ex-G.I.'s should strike while the iron is hot. This is a marvelous chance for them to get back into the field which the women took over. But they'd better move in fast before the women relent and take lower salaries."

GASOLINE GOES UP

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1 (P)—Gasoline price increases fluctuated between one and two cents today as retailers hastened to pass on a one-cent advance put in effect by most refineries. Holding the line at a one-cent increase was the Gulf chain of stations. Some independent dealers had raised prices two cents a gallon.

PIONEER DAYS ENACTED AGAIN

Holidaysburg, Pa., Aug. 1 (P)—A blind man older than the county itself enjoyed the full flavor of the pioneering days with 15,000 other Blair countians who gathered here yesterday to celebrate the county's 100th birthday.

He was the Rev. James A. Sell, 101 who journeyed over from Altoona to take part in the festivities and a colorful hour and 10-minute parade in which covered wagons rattled through the streets again and farm people wore the costumes of their grandparents.

Sell, who would have known most everyone in the parade had he not lost his vision about five years ago, smiled and waved his handkerchief along the entire route.

"At least I can hear them," he told his grandson, Fred A. Sell, of Holidaysburg. "That's nice. You know, Fred, I'm pretty deaf but I can hear them today."

Take Entire Section

One whole section of the parade was taken up by descendants of the Samuel Moore family, first settlers of the Scotch Valley district. Applebutter making, blacksmithing, quilting bees, and weaving were demonstrated in other flat-bedded wagons.

One of the highlights of the day was a pre-parade dedication of a

Reunion Is Held By Zinn Families

Three Zinn families were represented at the reunion held Sunday at Hively's Park, York. They include descendants of Joan and Sophia Zinn, who settled in Dover township in 1738; of Jacob and Catherine Zinn, Lancaster settlers in 1751, and Major George Zinn, who came to York in 1810.

The program included an address by Judge Harvey A. Gross, York, and group, solo and instrumental music. Carmen Zinn was elected president; Elmer Zinn, vice president; Allen Zinn, secretary; George Leib, assistant secretary; and William Zinn, treasurer.

William Zinn led the chorus and group singing, with Miss Doris Hottinger at the piano.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1946

State Unable To Buy 2,000,000 Feet Of Snow Fence; Shortage Of Lumber

EQUIPMENT IS REQUIRED FOR REPLACEMENTS

Harrisburg, Aug. 1 (AP)—The state Highways Department, preparing now for its annual winter battle against snows, has come up against a stone wall in its efforts to augment its supply of snow fence, Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock disclosed today.

Smock said the department hoped to buy 2,000,000 feet of fence but makers of the product have advised the commonwealth it is just not being made because of the lumber shortage and resulting inability to obtain wooden lathe.

The state now has 12,937,000 ft. of snow fence but some of it is 12 years old while the 20,000-mile snow removal program of the Highways Department requires at least 2,000,000 feet more. The fence is placed on the approximate ratio of one mile for every 10 in the removal program.

Receive 13 Refusals

Warren K. Myers, chief maintenance engineer said the department placed inquiries for fence with 16 concerns and received 13 replies, all refusals, the manufacturers attributed their rejections to the lumber shortage.

The Highways Department spent $4,787,000 last winter in clearing away snow and cinderling highways, approximately half the sum spent the previous year when heavy snows plagued departmental work crews throughout the winter months.

In addition to seeking new snow fence, Smock said the department purchased 264 new trucks of which 101 have been delivered, and 532 new snow plows, many of them to replace equipment worn out during the war.

CLUB CLOSED, ALL BUT BAND

Philadelphia, Aug. 1 (AP)—The nightclub was "jumpy" with jive but for five weeks the seven-piece orchestra had no audience. The musicians sweated out the nights as though 400 paying customers were in the closed Coronet restaurant for the supper show because the owners "like music."

Tomorrow night the club opens for business again and Jules Lavan's band "takes a powder"—to look for a new job.

Owners Joseph Fine and Dan Gerson have had themselves $3,102 worth of tunes, old and new, since they bought the Coronet on July 2.

They closed the club the same night but found themselves with an orchestra that had five weeks to go on a contract signed with the former bosses.

Play Or No Pay
"Look, boys," Fine said, "we won't be opening until August 2, so we won't need you around. Let's make a settlement."

Lavan held out for five weeks pay.

"Okay," said Fine. "I like music, so we'll have music—every night on contract schedule."

It was "play or no pay."

And every night Fine and Gerson, with a few passersby who drifted in, sat and listened.

"No hard feelings," Fine said. "It's just that I like music."

Lavan said a drunk walked in one night and yelled for a whiskey sour. Told the place was closed, he complained:

"The joint's jumpin' and I can't even get a drink."

Louis-Mauriello Meet In New York

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—Joe Louis and Tami Mauriello will do their fighting for the heavyweight title in Yankee stadium here Sept. 18—not in Detroit.

Promoter Mike Jacobs said he had decided against switching the fight to the champion's home town, despite the fact he has two other title bouts scheduled in the same ball park in September.

The promoter had considered the possibility of making the switch after Michigan Boxing Commissioner John Hettche assured him the bout would be a sellout in Detroit.

Scrap Crisis May End Within Month

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—Another month should see an end to the present scrap crisis in the steel industry, the Iron Age said today in a weekly review.

The scrap shortage is taking its toll in steel ingot output, the magazine stated, but added:

"Dealers are now actively trying to move scrap as they suspect that any quantities of scrap held in speculation may start to be dumped."

"Further production scrap is coming out in ever increasing volume. However, scrap in plentiful volume may not occur in the near future."

The Iron Age termed the shortage of coal and coke a close second to meager supplies of scrap as a bar to full production, but here, too, a note of cautious optimism appeared.

Soybeans are an important crop in Manchuria, where 150,000,000 bushels are produced annually.

MOSLEMS SEEK DIRECT ACTION IN NEW CRISIS

By PRESTON GROVER

(Chief of the Associated Press Staff in India, now home on leave, writing for Dewitt Mackenzie)

India is striding steadily toward another crisis in her relations with Britain, with an extremely bad situation in prospect unless at least a partial solution is found.

Mohammed Ali Jinnah and his Moslem League have withdrawn from participation in the Constitutional Assembly which is scheduled to meet during August or early September to start building a constitution for an independent India. Coupled with that, the league has threatened to start "direct action" to achieve Moslem independence both from the British and from what Jinnah calls "Hindu domination."

At a press conference, Jinnah declined to outline what "direct action" might mean, and also added that the league had not given up thought of further negotiation either with the British or with Gandhi's Indian National Congress.

New Tone of Voice

For the Moslems it was a new tone of voice. They have not shared very largely in demonstrations against the British. In the bitter wartime demonstration of 1942 they stood completely aloof. Nevertheless Jinnah has repeatedly emphasized that there is no "non-violence" creed to hamper them if they do decide to cut loose.

Moslem leaders have called for a one day "Hartal" on August 16. This means closing of shops and general suspension of activity other than political. On that day, Moslem League leaders are expected to detail what they want in the way of "direct action." They are in an angry mood, for they feel, rightly or wrongly, that the British cabinet mission double-crossed them in order to appease the National Congress.

The congress, back in June, was on the point of bolting both the Constitutional Assembly and the temporary government to be set up while the new constitution was shaped. The Moslems had agreed to both. The cabinet mission labored to reconcile the differences and avoid a complete failure.

The congress balked on the temporary government issue due to differences on the proportion of Moslem representation. It finally agreed to share in the framing of the constitution but only, reliable sources said, on condition that the British sidestep the Moslem League, which was willing to go ahead with forming a central government.

It was a critical decision for the cabinet mission, but it decided in favor of the congress, indicating clearly that it was convinced it must work with the congress.

Now the British must decide whether they will work alone with the congress, find a means of appeasing the league, or scuttle the whole affair.

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 14

After that first night, things went easier for Greer at the Melody Club. Since everyone of any importance to her had been there the first night, there were few new faces to stare and wonder. Gradually she found herself slipping into the routine of her new life. Now it seemed that this was the familiar reality and the old carefree existence had been the dream. At times she missed her father bitterly, especially as she watched the flowering of a lovely new-found affection between Isobel and Stephen Redmon. And though she could not excuse the weakness that had been Cortland Lawrence's ruin, she could still love and cherish his memory as the kindest and most loving of fathers. Nothing could change that.

Her chief contact with the old world that had been her habitation came through Jeff Mansfield. Jeff still occasionally went on parties with the old "gang" that had once acknowledged Greer as its leader. He told her bits of gossip about her old friends that somehow left her strangely untouched. His life as a newspaperman made him an interesting conversationalist, and Greer really enjoyed his company. She did not sing on Monday nights at the Club, so on those days Jeff usually had something planned—often he took her with him on an assignment and she thrilled to the excitement of newspaper life. Sometimes she sat in the studio while he did his newscast and admired his clipped, terse diction. She often wondered why, if she liked to be with him so much, she couldn't love him, but knew that they were simply the best of friends.

In spite of the fact that she had openly declared that she was going to consider Rocky Alverson her "bitterest enemy" as he had suggested, Greer could not but realize that he tried to make things easy and pleasant for her. "He's just trying to spare me because he knows I'm a drawing card!" she would think bitterly, when an especially attractive tray would be sent to her dressing-room, or a corsage of gardenias would come up to the apartment for her to wear as she sang.

But there was much to admire in the man she had to admit, arrested in spite of herself by his intriguing presence. She fought against the desire that seemed to always possess her to appear at her best in his sight. It seemed as though she tried to please him—but then she would have been quite alone in the entire organization had she not done so.

"Everyone about this place looks up to him—yes, and loves him!" Buzzy Barton told her. "He's the squarest shooter I've ever known!" Greer was silent, thinking that this description certainly did not tally with the opinion she'd been forced to form of him. But she could not help admiring the bulldog tenacity with which he secured and held on to what he wanted, the sure strokes of salesmanship he employed—though she sensed that his greatest interest was not after all in the Melody Club. She could not forget, either, that he had opened his home and heart to little homeless Donny Chilton. Was Rocky Alverson, in spite of his nickname, not quite as invulnerable as he wanted people to believe? Sometimes when Greer caught his dark gaze on her as she went over her songs, she would glance away quickly, not really wanting to know what lurked in their inscrutable depths, yet consumed with curiosity as to what his real opinion of her was.

And then one night after her songs had been finished, Greer received a message that Rocky would like to see her in his office before she went home. She found him in conference with a stranger who looked at her eagerly as she entered. Rocky had placed him as the man who wanted to know who Greer was the first night she sang at the Melody Club. Now he surprised her by saying:

"This is Mr. Ambrose Grafton, Miss Lawrence. Mr. Grafton is the operator of one of the biggest and best known night clubs in the country. He'd like to have you leave the Melody Club and sing at his place in the city. I told him you had no contract with me and that the matter would be entirely up to you." Startled, Greer's eyes flashed from one man to the other. This was something that had not entered her mind—a bigger, better offer. And in the city, where those who came to hear her sing would have no interest in her other than as an entertainer. She felt confused, amazed.

"Miss Lawrence, don't answer now," Grafton was saying. "Take time to think it over. I realize that

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Everyone about this place looks up to him—yes, and loves him!" Buzzy Barton told her. "He's the squarest shooter I've ever known!" BAKER STRIKES ARE POSTPONED

Philadelphia, Aug. 1 (AP)—Three scheduled strikes that threatened to cut off distribution of bread and other foods to hundreds of thousands of Philadelphians have been postponed.

A work stoppage, announced to start at one minute past midnight this morning by Local 6, Bakery and Confectionery workers union (AFL) in eight large bakeries, was delayed for a week "in the interest of the public."

Raymond Bolling, business agent for the union which represents approximately 2,000 workers in the 13 plants of the baking companies, said "We do not want to deprive the people of their bread."

The companies produce a million loaves a day.

"In the meantime," Bolling said, "we will try to continue negotiations with the eight companies (five in Philadelphia, three in nearby Norristown)."

Officials of Local 169, storage warehouse employees (AFL) last night agreed to postpone a strike involving warehousemen at four big grocery chains.

Both unions seek wage increases of 18½ cents an hour.

Edward Hartough, president of the warehousemen's local, said postponement came after management representatives offered to "eliminate inequalities" in wage scales.

A strike at the Camden (N.J.) cannery of the Campbell Soup company was postponed until employees of the firm's Chicago plant act on a strike resolution, spokesmen for Local 80, food, tobacco and agricultural workers union (CFO) announced. The strike, scheduled to start late this week at the beginning of the tomato canning season, was called after union charges that the company violated the labor contract.

EDS RELEASE 2 YANKS HELD FOR 27 DAYS

Berlin, Aug. 1 (AP)—Capt. Harold Cobin and Lt. George Wyatt, American officers who were released Tuesday by the Russians, said today they had been detained in the west occupation zone for 27 days, the allegation that they were held.

The two, who vanished more than a month ago on an unauthorized trip into the Soviet zone, said they had been held for most of the 27 days at Russian headquarters in Potsdam.

Cobin and Wyatt, who related their experiences at a press conference in the presence of U. S. military and intelligence officials, said the Russians had treated them well but had questioned them almost daily and at great length in an attempt to ascertain whether they were secret agents.

Arrested July 4
At one time they were officially argued with being spies, and signed statements denying the charges, they said.

The officers said they were arrested July 4 at Oranienburg, 20 miles north of Berlin, where they claimed they went to try to visit a former Nazi concentration camp at Sachsenhausen. Both asserted they were unaware of reports that the Russians now are using that camp for political prisoners.

They said they were moved to Potsdam late the night of their arrest, all their movements while in custody being in completely blacked-out automobiles. Throughout their questioning they were kept separated and were questioned separately by the Russians, Cobin, who was born in Russia, said he was questioned entirely in Russian.

Both men said they had repeatedly requested the Russians to notify American authorities of their whereabouts.

"They told us," Cobin added, "That they would do so when your identity has been established."

Strange Threat
Cobin said he was repeatedly questioned about his connection with the Berlin documents center, where old Nazi party files and other records are kept.

"They kept trying to establish a chain of command between Lt. Col. Hans Helm, my chief in the documents center, and Gen. Clay (Lt. Gen. Luskus D. Clay, U. S. Deputy Military Governor)," Cobin declared. "At one point they threatened that if I didn't tell them how Helm was connected with Clay I would be sent to Russia. I asked them if being sent to Russia was considered punishment, and they smiled."

Major Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commander here, informed American authorities that the officers were picked up near Berlin. The Russian did not say how long the Americans had been in custody, but asserted he was acting in conformity "with our agreement that we inform each other when we pick up one another's Nationals."

Martin Undecided On Filling Post

Harrisburg, Aug. 1 (AP)—Whether or not Governor Martin fills the long-vacant post on the state liquor control board before his term expires January 21 remained an open question today.

"I might—and I might not," said Martin at his news conference Wednesday.

Looks From Window, Discovers Dead Man

Tyler, Pa. Aug. 1 (AP)—Miss Alice Forsythe was standing by a window in Tyler Union church, watching a dog chase a rabbit, when she suddenly saw a man lying very still.

She had discovered the body of Theodore Klaber, 76, missing three weeks from his home in this Clearfield county town.

Deputy Coroner F. I. Gillung of DuBois, after examining the body, said he believed the elderly man "wandered into the deep weeds near the church, lay down with his arm around a large bottle, and died."

White Rhinoceros First In Captivity

Pretoria, South Africa, Aug. 1 (AP)—The first white Rhinoceros ever held in captivity is now in the Pretoria Zoo. It was found abandoned by its mother in Zululand and brought 500 miles to Pretoria by motor truck.

Now two weeks old, it weighs 75 pounds and consumes a gallon of milk daily fed by bottle.

Wednesday in answer to a query on a statement by Laurence Eldredge, president of Pennsylvania Alcoholic Beverage Studies, Inc.

Eldredge had said Martin promised before his election in 1942 to fill the job and also to remove a 10 per cent tax on liquor levied as a depression measure.

The governor had no comment on Eldredge's public request for Martin to lift the emergency tax.

Of all persons formally charged by the police in the U. S., 79.4 per cent were found guilty in 1942.

SAYS SLIDING IS LOST ART

Philadelphia, Aug. 1 (AP)—Major league baseball players lost the art of correct sliding "in the bushes," says Ben Chapman, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The National leagues ruefully admit that correct sliding form is nearly extinct in the big leagues, but he blames lack of adequate coaching in the nation's minor leagues for the dilemma.

"A ball player must learn how to slide when he's young or he'll never learn," Ben told a reporter. "My high school coach taught me. That's when a boy should be taught—in his formative years."

"After a player's been in organized baseball for five years, he knows how to slide or he doesn't, and he'll not change much."

Chapman, in his heyday as a New York Yankee outfielder, was often regarded as a champion and a stylist at stealing bases—getting to the bag safely by deceptive slides.

The Blue Jays' chieftain said the trouble with the big league base-running and sliding today is "the runner concedes the putout."

"When the ball's at the base ahead of the runner that's when he should put on his slide, and concede nothing," he declared.

"If he watches the defensive man, the runner can tell where the throw's coming. If it's coming in to his right, he should fall away to his left in a hook slide that would catch the bag with his right foot."

"There are quite a few big leaguers who know how to slide, but too few observe the tipoff action of the fielder and slide accordingly."

"I'm for the runner who tries, and doesn't give up when the ball beats him in. Never concede the putout, and you'll make many a base, and win many a ball game."

But Chapman insisted that "if good instructors teach kids how to slide, the lost art of correct sliding will soon be regained."

Airliner Aided In Takeoff By Rockets

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Successful use of rockets to speed the takeoff of an airliner was reported by the Air Transport command.

With the aid of four "Jato" rocket units installed under the wing, a four-engine Douglas C-54 Skymaster took off after a ground run of less than 700 feet in a test at Memphis, Tenn. Its normal run when loaded is approximately 3,000 feet.

The test was carried out by ATC's fourth ferrying group.

with these tractor tires

ON REAR WHEELS
Use B. F. Goodrich Hi-Clear tractor tires... the only tires that have cleats in pairs—one long, one short. Double bars for double bite and extra grip. Open center, self-cleaning tread design. No mud-catching pockets to cause slippage. Extra high shoulders prevent sideslip. Tough, long wearing rubber. Positive traction.

ON FRONT WHEELS
B. F. Goodrich front wheel tractor tires wear long, roll smoothly. Self-cleaning tread helps keep work moving speedily. Husky, high shoulders and tough rubber.

ON IMPLEMENTS
Long-wearing B. F. Goodrich Tires help you move faster from job to job, work in soil where steel wheels would bog down. And a B. F. Goodrich planned changeover from steel wheels to rubber tires means extra savings—often one set of tires and rims may be used on more than one implement.

JUDGES REVEAL MORE STAMINA THAN PRISONERS

By HAL BOYLE
Nürnberg, Germany (AP) — Shipwreck Kelly had nothing on the eight judges of the International Military Tribunal.

He never sat for eight months on a bench without a working day off. The judges have.

Since last November 20, no member of the tribunal has been absent from the courtroom in the case of humanity versus 21 men and a ghost. The ghost is Martin Bormann, Hitler's twilight deputy, who is believed dead but is being tried in absentia anyway just in case he turns up later among the living.

The 21 men, of course, are Hermann Goering and a score of other prominent ex-salesmen of the Swastika. Despite their long training in Nazi party bombast they have shown marked lack of endurance in weathering the flood of more than 4,000,000 words spoken into the official record since the trial began.

"The defendants don't always appear, but the judges always do," said Anne Keeshan, Chicago, who has supervised the pressroom from the beginning.

"The defendants can go to sleep in court, too, and the judges can't. Sometimes they look as if they might be nodding. But then they pop up with a question that shows they're right on the ball. I've never caught one napping yet."

Mostly Older Men
This judicial record of perfect attendance is made more remarkable by the fact that the judges from America, Britain and France are all in their elder years. The two Russians are the freshmen of the bench in point of age.

As the trial winds wordily toward an expected verdict in September some 1,500 persons and nine electric mimeograph machines — are still kept busy turning justice's lethargic wheels.

"Of course, it's tapered off a good bit now," said Miss Keeshan. "Many more were employed at the start of the trial."

The transcript of testimony and argument now runs about 14,000 pages, and is increasing at better than a hundred pages a day.

Indicative of the failing world interest in this eventful but snail-paced drama is the shrinkage of the correspondents' corps from 300 newsmen representing 23 countries to 75 men and women from eight countries. Britain has the largest representation.

There were 249,827 words of news copy filed the day Justice Robert Jackson, the American prosecutor, made his opening statement. On July 1 the daily file dropped to 1,200 words. Throughout the trial it has averaged about 65,000 words.

Four Have Died
All 21 defendants are still enjoying their American-made calories in reasonable health, but the trial has resulted in some attrition of the tribunal's personnel. One court interpreter and a Polish newspaperman died, a public relations officer succumbed to a heart attack and a Russian prosecutor killed himself while cleaning his revolver.

It should be chronicled, as a footnote to the old theory that crime never pays around a courtroom, that one German kitchen employee was apprehended leaving the scene with his coat lining stuffed with coffee. On the other hand, one correspondent complains that the gasoline was stolen from his jeep in daylight — "broad daylight," he said — while it was in a parking lot fifty feet from the military police's pass in-

Suspend Strike By Pullman Conductors

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 1 (AP) — The threat of a nationwide strike of 27,000 Pullman conductors on August 7 has been removed, at least temporarily.

H. W. Fraser, president of the Order of Railway Conductors (independent) said Wed. that conductors have been notified that the strike has been suspended until requirements of the railway labor act have been fulfilled.

The announcement followed receipt at ORC headquarters of official notification of President Truman's action last week creating an emergency board to investigate a dispute between the railroads and Pullman conductors over interpretation of a recent wage increase.

Members of the president's three-man emergency board, who have not yet been named, will have 30 days to report their findings after they begin their study.

Inspection post under the court windows.

This mystery has yet to be referred to the tribunal.

East Berlin

East Berlin—The Rev. George W. Welsh, D.D., pastor of Mt. Zion Reformed church, Spring Grove, and many years ago pastor of the local Reformed church, has been suffering with a fractured right wrist resulting from a fall at his home.

Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney spent several days in Brooklyn, N. Y., where her sisters, the Misses Claire L. and M. Estelle Kuhn, have been in poor health for some months.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Barnes and sons, Walter, Guy and Kenneth, were entertained by Mrs. Barnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Cornelius, Mercersburg, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Burgard, Davenport, Iowa, who have been on a month's vacation in this section where Mr. Burgard formerly lived, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Baker, Hamilton township, near town.

Mrs. Grace Roland was among a party who recently spent a few days in Atlantic City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Myers and young son, R. I., made a trip to Hanover during the past week.

Lloyd Heiner, R. 2, has been under medical care because of an injured back resulting in the course of his work.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garvick, Hanover, and children, Jane, Earl and Ellen, spent the week-end at "Camp Sycamore," their summer home along the Conewago creek near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hostetter, Hanover, were recent visitors of local friends.

Mrs. Hostetter's elderly mother, Mrs. Catherine Hollinger Forry, Hanover, a native of this section, is recovering from an injured ankle sustained in a fall at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles LeRoy Eisenhart, who were married last month, are spending the summer in the Pocono mountains where they have obtained positions. Mr. Eisenhart, a recent veteran of the marine corps, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy E. Eisenhart, this place, while his wife is the former Shirley Young, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Verne Y. Brandt, who submitted to an operation at the York hospital early in July, has returned home and is reported in a satisfactory condition.

Philip, son of Mrs. Betty Duncan Leiphart, York, has been a guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Duncan, and family.

Carl I. Sinner, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sinner, York, formerly of here, is attending the clerk-typist school at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado.

Carolyn, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Alvin J. Forry, who has been suffering with a severe fracture of her right arm, is reported improving but will have her arm in a cast for another month.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Boozer, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Creekmore, and Miss Patricia Boozer, West Palm Beach, Fla., who have been visiting in this section, were entertained this week at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moul and Mr. and Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney. At present, Mr. and

Charge Firms In Anti-Trust Laws

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark has announced the filing of three civil actions charging that three American and one foreign producer of anti-friction bearings have violated the anti-trust laws.

Clark said separate suits alleging that Cartel agreements had been made to control world markets in bearings, were filed in federal court

Mrs. Boozer, who will return home within the next two weeks, are staying at the East Berlin hotel, while the Creekmores are spending the time at the East Berlin park and Miss Boozer is a guest of Miss Peggy Ann Moul.

Earl E. Zeigler, a recent navy veteran, has opened a fresh meat shop on West King street in the same building formerly used by his father, Orville J. Zeigler, as a butcher shop, at Cleveland, Ohio, against these American companies and what he called "their foreign conspirators."

The Tunkin Roller Bearing company of Canton, Ohio; SKF Industries, Inc., of Philadelphia and Aktiebolaget Svenska Kullagerfabriken of Gothenburg, Sweden; and Norma-Hoffman Bearing Corp., of Stamford, Conn.
